

Women & Philanthropy: Chicks, Checks and Charity

Women and men have different styles in making financial and charitable choices. How do you move your women donors from checkbook philanthropy to significant charitable giving? Learn some tools and techniques that will enable you and your program to make the most of the “power of the purse.”